LAVAL WINS

A Powerful Majority

Paris, June 9.

The new National Government, headed by M. Pierre Laval, obtained a vote of confidence in the Chamber of Deputies to-day by 412-137 on the question of shelving all interpellations with respect to the Government's monetary policy.

This overwhelming majority followed the reading of a ministerial declaration, the point of which was the demand for exceptional powers for the next five months "to ensure the defence of the franc and fight against speculation."

"The powers we ask for are necessary for the protection of the political status of our country," said M. Laval in his plea for support.

"The state of our public finances is the greatest menace to the franc. The whole world has its eyes on us."

"Our foreign policy, our security and peace would be threatened if we did not receive the full support of the Chamber to-day," he declared.

PLENARY POWERS

Paris, June 7.

The Chamber has adopted the Plenary Powers Bill by a vote of 362 to 181.

It was on this measure that the Flandin Government was defeated.

GOVERNMENT AM

(Special to the "Morning Star" and Press) (Copyright.)

Berlin, June 7.

A fully packed Chamber in a somewhat chastened mood faced
M. Laval when he mounted the tribune in order to mark the Government declaration in pre-sentsing his cabinet and introduce the third empowering Bill drafted in ten days.

There was a complete silence while M. Laval read the government declaration which stresses that the new Cabinet had been formed for the purpose of combating speculation, and defending the franc and that it needed the means to act.

"Parliament will give them to us," exclaimed Laval, "if it immediately approves the Bill we have introduced. As everybody knows that our gold reserves should be sufficient to make the franc prove against any attack. The everlasting Budgetary deficit may, however, damage the franc if Parliament does not by immediate action give expression to its determination to maintain the currency. It will not be sufficient to curtail expenses redress and abuses. We must jointly begin to rehabilitate our national economy.
That is our aim."

WATCHED BY WORLD

After affirming that the Government is determined to further the interests of the workers, rural population, trade and industry,
the statement concludes by saying:
"The eyes of the whole world are riveted on us, in view of the existing danger. We will not let our prestige be injured. Our foreign policy of security and peace, steadfastness and moderation which are generally recognised, can only be called in question if we ourselves give the appearance of wishing to abandon it."

After the Communist Ramette had made a speech in support of its amendments, the Chamber proceeded to a division on the Government motion that all interpellations be indefinitely adjourned. This motion on which the Government had made the question of confidence, was carried by the Chamber by the striking majority of 412 to 137 votes.

The Chamber then adjourned while the finance committee examined the empowering bill which reads as follows:—

"In order to avoid the devaluation of the currency the Senate and Chamber empower the Government till October 31, 1935 to adopt all measures necessary for combating speculation protecting the franc by issuing decrees. The legal force of these decrees will be submitted to Parliament for ratification before January 1, 1936."

A decisive vote will probably be taken, at a late hour on Friday night.

Tides.—High at 4.34 and 12.25;
Low at 7.53 and 21.35.

HUGE FRAUD ALLEGED

Firm And Officials Involved

New York, June 8.
One of the largest investment fraud cases in history, involving over $700 million worth of real estate securities, is in prospect as the result of an indictment by a special Federal Grand Jury against the New York Title and Mortgage Company, which, with five officials, is charged with a mail fraud conspiracy in connection with the sale before 1933 of so-called guaranteed mortgage certificates.

A large part of the securities was held by banks and financial companies, while $200 million worth were sold to small investors.

The indictment declares that the defendants not only made misrepresentations to promote the sale of the securities but also
"concealed and suppressed the truth" concerning their real value.

SECURITY AND HAPPINESS

Roosevelt's High Aim

Washington, June 9. At a press conference to-day, President Roosevelt, when questioned with respect to the Administration's social legislation objectives, replied that its purpose was "to try to increase security and happiness of a larger number of people of all occupations and stations in life in all parts of the country, and give them a greater distribution not only of wealth in narrow terms, but of wealth in wider terms."

Meanwhile, the President emphasises that all voluntary codes and fair practice agreements must conform with the anti-trust laws of the nation. He said he believed off-hand that many did conform with these laws, but he wished to make it clear that he had authority to waive fundamental laws.

He does not object to inter-state compacts, however, now under consideration of group officials of the North-Eastern states.

Respecting oil compacts, he said he still desired that they include all producing states.

LAST DAY AS PRIME MINISTER

Mr. MacDonald Received By The King

London, June 9. The House of Commons warmly greeted Mr. Ramsay MacDonald on his last day as Prime Minister when he rose to address the members to-day, making a brief reply to Mr. Winston Churchill on the much-debated subject of Britain's air defences.

Immediately after this short passage in the House, the retiring Prime Minister returned to No. 10 Downing Street, where he has made no small contribution to the history of Britain, and from which he has deftly directed the affairs of state for the past several years.

He left No. 10 at 3.40 p.m. in a closed car and accompanied by Sir Clive Wigram, arrived at Buckingham Palace at 3.48 p.m. and was ushered into the presence of His Majesty. Mr. MacDonald had tea with the King and presented the resignation of the Cabinet.

On June 5, it was exactly six years since Mr. MacDonald was named Prime Minister and at that time he was close to the retired Labour leader, Lord Snowden. Lord Snowden, incidentally, was operated upon last night. His condition is stated as being satisfactory.

NO SURPRISES

There are no surprises in the British Cabinet, as announced to-day, for the forecasts were generally accurate.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin becomes the new Prime Minister and Mr. Ramsay MacDonald takes his place as Lord President of the Council. The following is the Cabinet:

Prime Minister, Mr. Baldwin;
Lord President of the Council,
Mr. MacDonald;

Home Secretary, Sir John Simon;

Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare;

Domestic Secretary, Mr. J. H. Thomas;

Colonial Secretary, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald;

Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Neville Chamberlain;

India Secretary, Marquis Zetland;

Minister without Portfolio for League of Nations affairs, Mr. Anthony Eden;

Lord Chancellor, Viscount Hailsham;

Lord Privy Seal, Lord Londonderry;

War Secretary, Lord Halifax;

Air Minister, Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister;

Secretary for Scotland, Sir Godfrey Collins;

Health Minister, Sir Kingsley Wood;

Trade Minister, Mr. Walter Runciman;

Lord of the Admiralty, Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell;

Education Minister, Mr. Oliver Stanley;

Agriculture Minister, Mr. Walter Elliot;

Labour Minister, Mr. Ernest Brown;

Commissioner of Works, Mr. W. G. A. Ormsby-Gore.

Sir John Simon has been appointed Deputy Leader in the House of Commons, in addition to his ministerial post.

Another Cabinet Minister without portfolio, Lord Eustace Percy, has been named.

Outside the Cabinet is the Postmaster-General, Major George C. Tryon, former Minister of Pensions.

Sir Hilton Young, former Minister of Health, has received a barony and Lord Londonderry has been named Leader in the House of Lords.

AN HOUR'S AUDIENCE

London, June 9. There has been an afternoon of coming and going between Buckingham Palace and 10 Downing Street in connection with the Government changes.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald left the Palace after an hour's audience with His Majesty, at which the King advised him that he had sent for Mr. Baldwin. The retiring Premier was escorted by Sir Clive Wigram, the King's Private Secretary, to his car and was cheered by the crowd which had gathered outside.

Four minutes later, Mr. Baldwin arrived and was immediately shown into the King's apartment, where His Majesty offered him the Premiership, which he accepted. He was only ten minutes with the King and then motored back to Downing Street, but returned to the Palace shortly afterwards with the list of proposed Ministers.

In the meantime, all the Ministers of the National Government assembled to say good-bye to Mr. MacDonald. He and most of them left for the Palace at 5.30 p.m., notable among them being Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, who had not yet attained Cabinet rank.

BALANCE NOT AFFECTED

Mr. Baldwin's Cabinet numbers 22, compared with 20 under Mr. MacDonald, but the balance of the three parties is hardly affected, as its consists of 15 Conservatives, three National Labourites and four National Liberals, compared with 14 Conservatives, three National Labourites and three National Liberals formerly.

Among the Conservatives, Sir John Gilmour and Sir Hilton Young are no longer members, but the Marquis of Zetland, Lord Eustace Percy and Mr. Anthony Eden have been brought in.

The appointment of Mr. Ernest Brown to Cabinet rank adds one National Liberal to the representation, while the National Labourites are unchanged in number, as Lord Sankey goes out but Mr. Malcolm MacDonald comes in.

Sir John Simon, as head of the Home Office, becomes His Majesty's principal Secretary of State and by becoming Deputy leader in the Commons restores the Home Secretaryship to its former position, in which its holder was the Premier's right-hand man in the House.

UNITED CABINET

London, June 9. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who this morning tendered to the King his resignation from the office of Prime Minister, which he has held continuously for six years, in a message to the nation, explains that he has for some time been facing the fact that he would have to seek respite from the heavy and continuous strain which the critical conditions of the last six years at home and abroad have imposed upon him as Prime Minister. He has been greatly concerned lest any change in personnel should weaken the Government's national character—a step which would speedily undo the policy which had led the country thus far through its difficulties, and given it the confidence and prospects which it now enjoys.

A Cabinet united in the practical work of fulfilling the common national task, he adds, is still required if the national progress is to be maintained, and problems, both domestic and foreign, surmounted. He hopes that the confidence and support which the country had given to the national combination of which he had been the head, would be renewed to the same combination under its new Prime Minister.

CABINET RANK

The King has approved that the dignity of a Barony of the United Kingdom be conferred upon Sir Hilton Young, formerly Minister of Health. Other Ministers who have retired from Cabinet office and are not included in the new Cabinet are Lord Sankey, who was Lord Chancellor, and Sir John Gilmour, who was Home Secretary.

Former members of the Government who now receive Cabinet rank are Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, son of the Prime Minister and formerly Under-Secretary for Dominion Affairs; Mr. Anthony Eden, formerly Lord Privy Seal; and Mr. Ernest Brown, Secretary of the Mines Department in the late Government. The new members of the Government with Cabinet rank are Lord Eustace Percy, seventh son of the seventh Duke of Northumberland, who was a member of the Joint Select Committee on India and has taken a prominent part in the debates on the Government of India Bill; and the Marquis of Zetland, who was Governor of Bengal from 1917 to 1922, was a member of the First Indian Round-Table Conference and also a member of the Joint Select Committee.

OFFICE CHANGES

It will be seen that Mr. MacDonald has taken over the office formerly held by Mr. Baldwin. Other former Cabinet Ministers who have been appointed to new

EXTENSION APPROVED

Washington, June 9. The House of Representatives to-day approved, and forwarded to the Senate, a resolution for the extension of the skeletonised N.R.A.

The House first rejected a Republican attempt to give the Federal Trade Commission instead of the President power to approve of voluntary codes.

Meanwhile, it is announced that President Roosevelt will accept the resignation of Mr. Donald Richberg, head of the N.R.A. The resignation becomes effective on June 16 when the N.R.A. expires.

Reuter.

Davis pleaded guilty. He is also being questioned in connection with the kidnapping of little George Weyerhaeuser, nine-year-old son of the Washington, and Oregon timber millionaire, for whose release a ransom of $200,000 was paid a few days ago.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR KIDNAPPER

St. Paul, June 9.

Volney Davis, notorious gangster, was sentenced to life imprisonment to-day for the part he played in the kidnapping of Mr. Edward Bremer, wealthy St. Paul banker, in January, 1934.

Irritability — Sleeplessness — General Weakness — Fatigue — Lack of Appetite and many troubles of the Stomach and Intestines

Do not allow this condition to continue too long, or you may do yourself irreparable harm—some serious disease may be the result. Your body is crying out for assistance and Sanatogen contains exactly those helpful elements your body needs. Start your course of Sanatogen today, and drink in new health and vitality. Just as the parched earth takes in rain, your overstrained nerves will drink in Sanatogen. Energy will return and soon you will enjoy again that priceless feeling of youthful fitness. Sanatogen has made you thoroughly healthy again!

Stomach Trouble?

A London physician writes: "A noteworthy effect of Sanatogen is a better appetite, which is generally noticed within three or four days after beginning this nerve food."

One of the many forms in which "nerves" manifest themselves is disorders of the stomach. Digestion—like every other function of the body—is governed by the nervous system. "Heavy digestion," "weak stomach"—all those troubles are in 9 out of 10 cases due to overstrained nerves. That is why Sanatogen often works wonders in all troubles of the stomach and the intestines. And even in the most serious cases of stomach disease Sanatogen is prescribed by the leading physicians, because it not only regulates the functions of the stomach, but also because it is so easily digestible and gives the stomach a rest. Enjoy your meals again, enjoy life again, by taking Sanatogen. Sanatogen is absolutely trustworthy. Over 25,000 physicians have expressed their admiration in writing,

Here is Health!

SANATOGEN adds health to your system. It conquers nervous conditions by feeding the nerves, is easily digestible and gives new fresh blood.

And that famous medical paper, "The Lancet," says: "There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, more especially in cases of general debility."

EXECUTIONS IN RUSSIA

Anger Aroused In Germany

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily
Press" (Copyright).]
Berlin, June 7.

Great indignation and bitter resultment is caused here by reports from Russia that the German peasants, Michael Roerich, Simon Sebastian Klein and three others, all of them members of one of the numerous German speaking communities in Southern Russia, have been executed by shooting some days ago at the village Strassburg near Odessa.

Roerich, who is a Catholic and the father of seven children, had, according to the Soviet Russian press, been sentenced to death early in January on charges of being a "Hitler agent" and having sent upwards of five hundred letters to Fascist organisations in Germany, Poland and Switzerland, asking for financial aid for his starving family.

It has been ascertained here that the Roerich family had between January and March 1934—at the time when with the consent of the Soviet Russian Government Relief Committees various European countries were forwarding funds and food packages to distressed German speaking families in Southern Russia—received several small sums totalling no less than fifty marks while two remittances, totalling eighteen and a half marks had been sent to Klein through the official Soviet Russian Torgsin agency.

The German Relief Committee possesses letters written by Roerich and Klein in which the distress prevailing in their villages were depicted in simple and moving terms, without any criticism of the Soviet administration.

The German press points out that it had even been admitted by the Soviet papers that vast regions in Russia had been affected by famine in the winter of 1933 and the spring of 1934.

These executions, writes the Lo-kaltzeiger, must therefore be ascribed to "hate against Germany, due to the latter having done away with the Communist pests."

WHOLESALE ARRESTS IN DANZIG

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily
Press" (Copyright).]
Danzig, June 7.

A group of ten persons including one woman who had attempted to organise in Danzig a branch of the so called Fourth International, under the name of "Revolutionary Social Democrats" were arrested, by the political police on Friday and will be tried on charges of high treasonal activities.

Members of the group which formed the Left Wing Danzig Social Democratic Party were closely affiliated with the Communists that had disseminated numerous illegal publications.

Their leaders, the Danzig Jew
Dr. Kassin and a Russian Jew, Jacob Goldfarb have succeeded in escaping across the frontier. The police have also arrested the Berlin correspondent at Vienna of the newspaper, "Neues Wiener Tagblatt," Eduard Penkalla, who had come to Danzig some days ago and sent highly coloured reports in which he asserted that the Danzig Government and National Socialist party were near collapse.

Penkalla who is a Yugo-Slavian citizen, had moreover cast asper-sions on various leading Danzig personalities.

Rome, June 7.

Preliminary discussions of the Italo-Abyssinian Conciliation Committee, it is stated on good authority, ended on Friday afternoon. It is understood that in the final session it was decided to hold the negotiations proper which will begin on June 25, at Scheveningen, Holland.

CABLE NEWS IN BRIEF

BIOGRAPHY FORBIDDEN IN AUSTRIA

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily
Press" (Copyright).]
Vienna, June 7.

The biography of the famous Austrian General, Conrad von Holtzendorf, written by the late General's widow under the title of
"My Life With Conrad von Holt-zendorf," has been forbidden by the Austrian government under the recently enacted law for the "protection of Austrian traditions."

Holtzendorf was the chief of the Austrian General Staff during the first three years of the world war.
The prohibited book which was recently published in Leipzig, is said to contain many revelations of the political events which took place behind the scenes. The Government organ, "Neulandswelt Blatt" calls the work a "compilation of historically incorrect assertions," containing an "unjustified attack on the late Emperor Charles." This latter reproach seems to be chiefly responsible for the prohibition of the book.

ANGLO-GERMAN NAVAL DISCUSSIONS

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily
Press" (Copyright).]
London, June 7.

A communique, issued jointly by the British and German delegations after their Friday meeting states that the Anglo-German Talks are proceeding smoothly.
The British delegation having in the course of the general discussion explained the present situation while some technical points were also cleared up.

The negotiations will be continued after the holidays on June 15, the German delegation having meanwhile returned to Germany.

GOERING INTERVIEW DENIED

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily
Press" (Copyright).]
Belgrade June 7.

Reports of the alleged interview which the Budapest correspondent of the London "Daily Telegraph" claims to have had with General Goering are denied as wholly without foundation by the German Legation here in a statement issued on behalf of General Goering.

The statement stresses that the General had neither in Budapest, nor in Sofia, nor during his stay in Dalmatia, received any Press representatives and moreover had never talked to any correspondent or member of the editorial staff of the "Daily Telegraph," so that the above-mentioned reports are wholly untrue.

CLERGYMEN SENTENCED TO DEATH

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily
Press" (Copyright).]
Geneva, June 7.

The newspaper "Journal de Geneve" which recently published a report of the two German clergymen, Selte and Deutschmann having been sentenced to death by the Soviet Court, learns from a reliable source that another German clergyman, Pastor Simon Kult of Novonikolausk, the father of nine children, was likewise, condemned to death on charges of having spread anti-Soviet propaganda.

Curator Oscar Wilhelm Simon of the Stanne Church in Leningrad, had been arrested, according to the same paper, and his church, which formed the centre of the Protestant life in Leningrad had been closed down.

THE PEOPLE'S TRIBUNE

A semi-monthly magazine dealing with the social, political and economic life of China and other Far Eastern countries.

Edited by T'ANG LEANG-LI

THE PEOPLE'S TRIBUNE aims at conveying accurate information and the correct interpretation thereof, at informing the foreign public what the Chinese people and their responsible leaders are thinking and doing, at explaining the significance of major political and other relevant social developments—conscious of its responsibilities, without fear or prejudice. Being China's most authoritative periodical of its kind, the articles are not only reproduced and commented upon by the various English-language publications in Shanghai and elsewhere in China, but also translated into French, German, Malay, Dutch, and other languages throughout the world, and occasionally cabled over in full to Europe and America.

THE PEOPLE'S TRIBUNE enjoys the largest circulation of any Chinese periodical published in the English language containing many outstanding features, including a section dealing with finance, commerce, art, and also a pictorial department, it equals in style and content the best current magazines of the West.

Forty cents the copy.

May 1934.—Constant supply in all districts during the whole month.

May 1935.—From 1st to 21st a 10 hours supply (6-11 a.m. and 4-9 p.m.) was given to all districts, excepting on 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th when a constant supply was given on account of the Silver Jubilee Celebrations. From 22nd to 31st a six hours supply (6-9 a.m. and 4.30-7.30 p.m.) was given to all districts.

Additional amount supplied to Laihekok Water Boat Dock during the month of May 9.75 M.G.

The reports of the Government's Engineer and Analyst show that the quality of the water is satisfactory.

Total rainfall recorded by Royal Observatory from 1.1.34 to 31.5.34: 14.905; and from 1.1.35 to 31.5.35: 14.075.

THE SHANGHAI TELEPHONES

Committee To Look Into Question

Shanghai, June 3.

The Shanghai Municipal Council, it is understood, is proceeding with the appointment of a special committee to inquire into the question of the revision of the telephone rates, on the lines proposed by the Shanghai Telephone Company. The British expert whose name will shortly be announced, will not be a member of the Committee but will merely report on the problem and advise the Committee accordingly. The Committee may consist of four members and the Japanese community will be asked to nominate a representative, it is expected.

Meanwhile the attitude of the Japanese press, as recently revealed, is causing some bewilderment. Opportunity was taken yesterday to discuss this matter with a British Ratepayer who, although not a member of the Council, is in exceedingly close touch with the Council and with the Telephone Company, besides having a practical acquaintance with the views of a number of telephone subscribers. He pointed out that the Japanese criticism seemed to do less than justice to the French Municipal Council which is working in close co-operation with the Council of the International Settlement and is not at all disposed to be "led by the nose."

FACTS NOT APPRECIATED

Japanese comments on the Telephone controversy in Shanghai are considered to lack appreciation of the relevant facts. The Shanghai Municipal Council, it is pointed out, is not solely concerned in the matter, for the Council of the French Concession is also a party to the negotiations with the Shanghai Telephone Company.

It is pointed out that in August 1934, Shanghai was faced with the need for a reorganization of its telephone service on lines which would involve the raising of capital beyond the resources of the existing company. That company itself was convinced that who ever undertook the reorganization would have to face heavy capital outlay. It was in those circumstances that the present company undertook the work, after careful expert examination of all available alternatives. It was obviously necessary to guarantee returns later, otherwise no company would have been willing to assume the responsibility for installing the automatic system which was absolutely necessary to give Shanghai the efficient service desired. No one denies that efficient service has been given.

THE BRITISH EXPERT

In regard to the choice of a British Post Office expert, it appears that, although the point has been made to representatives of the Japanese press, the Japanese residents do not yet realize that in most countries telephone organizations are controlled by one or other of two telephone systems. The British Post Office is the only organization which uses both systems and could therefore to the negotiations with the Shanghai Telephone Company. THE GIRL FROM MAXIMS

In "The Girl from Maxims" George Grossmith has his most humorous role to date, that of a French General.

Some of the most fantastic flights of the milliner's art are to be seen in this picture which will be seen very shortly at the Queen's Theatre. The hats are exact copies of the most expensive advance models of 1934.

The sets built for the production are the most lavish and ornate of any seen in British films.

A betrothal scene in "The Girl from Maxims" is the most lavish seen for a long time, a feature of which are the magnificent crystal chandeliers.

The famous French dances, the Can-Can and the Matisse are seen performed by some twenty beautiful dancers. Frances Day who plays the heroine sings one of the most delightful songs numbers ever heard on the screen. Her part is taken from the French version, "La Dame de Chez Maxim" by the famous Folies Bergere and musical comedy star, Florelle.

PECK'S BAD BOY

Dorothy Peterson says that her professional life is cursed by an unwitting capacity to win sympathy. Endowed with independence of spirit and self-reliance, she finds that the camera picks out a quality of appeal foreign to her and attracts pity and sympathy, in spite of "her best efforts." Miss Peterson's latest appearance is with Jackie Cooper in "Peck's Bad Boy," now showing at the Star Theatre.

"Those that know me best," she says, "say that I give them a great laugh in my performances of young matrons, duty-bound to their off-spring. As a tear-gathering mother, they say I'm a marvellous actress, since in my private life that's one thing I would thank no one for giving me sympathy."

"That's one reason I was eager to play the role of Lily Clay in this production of 'Peck's Bad Boy.' Lily is a 'meanie.' But even in this part I do not escape the devoted, fond mother role. It is for my little son Horace that I work all the mischief in the Peck household."

THE ALHAMBRA

Gertrude Michael's Success

Gertrude Michael, captivated the screen audiences with her lively performance in the title role of "The Notorious Sophie Lang," which began its run at the Alhambra yesterday.

In the supporting cast are Paul Cavanaugh, Leon Errol, Arthur Byron and Alison Skipworth, who contribute in no small way to success of the film, which is part moving and exciting.

Miss Michael as the glamorous beauty, steals jewels and men's hearts with equal ease. She breaks the laws of two continents, and the hearts of all men who try to capture her. The unusual adventures that come to her when she herself, falls in love with her most notorious rival, (Paul Cavanaugh) bring the film to a thrilling finale.

Ralph Murphy directed the film from an original story by Frederick Irving Anderson.

TIMES SQUARE
LADY

At The Queen's

An excellent fast-moving comedy-drama, featuring Virginia Bruce and Robert Taylor, had its initial showings at the Queen's Theatre yesterday. These two players who are fast approaching stardom, will be remembered for their talented displays in "Society Doctor." A story of New York night life forms the background of "Times Square Lady" and at one of the celebrated night clubs in the metropolis, Pinky Tomlin the screen's latest sensational crooner, sings two popular song hits "The Object of My Affection" and "What's the Reason I'm Not Pleading You?" which he himself wrote and which caused his rise to fame in a night club and later on the screen.

Included in the supporting cast are Isabel Jewell, Helen Twelvetrees and Nat Pendleton.

This is another fine production from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio directed by George B. Seitz and T. Thoroughly recommend it.—Raj.

TRADE DIFFICULTIES

IN 1934

Politico - Economic Situation

Shanghai, June 3.
The annual report on the foreign trade of China, issued by the Statistical Secretary of the Chinese Maritime Customs, covering the year 1934, has been placed on sale.

In the introduction to the very full and excellently compiled work, the attention of the reader is called to the international politico-economic situation during 1934. While the year contained many riots, civil warfare in various countries, and a startling recrudescence of political crime in Europe, conventional politics received much-needed support from the judicious handling of international disputes by the League of Nations, the prestige of which institution was considerably enhanced.

Regarding the "field" of economics, the report points out that few restrictions on trade have been removed, and fresh experience has been gained during the year of the practical difficulties now to be met with in endeavouring to market the produce of China against the rising tide of "Empire preference" in Great Britain, and "colonial preference" in France. It is noted, however, that an immense number of trade agreements have been and are still being made, though largely on a bilateral rather than on a multilateral basis. The exceptions are the agreements in the Gold Bloc and the somewhat loosely defined group within the so-called Sterling Bloc.

CURRENCY SITUATION

With regard to the currency situation the report says: "Obviously the chief factors in the currency situation were the Sterling Bloc, the Gold Bloc, and, as a third party, the United States of America; more or less the old triangular foundation on which exchange has rested in the past—the pound, franc, and dollar. Besides these factors, the two metals, gold and silver, had adventurous careers as currency bases during the year under review. The price of gold rose to the highest level ever recorded, and the franc with it; while the prestige of this metal was enhanced still further by the United States of America practically sterilizing her holdings of it by vesting in the Government, under the provisions of the Gold Reserve Act of 1934, all right and title to the gold coin and bullion remaining even in the possession of the Federal Reserve banks. Immediately after the promulgation of this same Act, however, the United States also "devaluated" her dollar by lowering its gold content to 59.06 per cent. of its former value, and, later, increased her silver reserves and deliberately broadened the metallic base of her monetary system under the Silver Purchase Act of 1934."

THE INTERNAL SITUATION

Distinctly more peaceful conditions were experienced throughout the greater part of the country during the year under review. There were no further acts of foreign aggression, and, if there remained evidences of Sino-Japanese tension in Northern China, the occurrence of embarrassing incidents as a result of this strained atmosphere was safely averted by the discreet conduct of affairs by the Peiping Political Council, under the general direction of the National Government, during the protracted negotiations for the retrocession of the Great Wall passes and the resumption of through traffic on the Peiping-Mukden Railway. The somewhat unimpressive stage revolt in Fukien was crushed in January, and, as foreshadowed in the previous trade report, the internal situation was further improved by the eventual success of the campaign against the so-called Soviet forces in Kiangsi. The most serious natural calamity of the year was a drought affecting the provinces of Anhwei, Chekiang, Kiangsi, and Kiangsu principally, and many other provinces to a lesser extent.

OUTSTANDING FEATURE

No attempt is made here to describe the varied activities of the Government during the year or even to summarize all the important undertakings of the National Economic Council in the interests of commerce and industry, the development of the country in general, and the prospering of agriculture in all its branches. These matters are dealt with in their proper place elsewhere in the report. The silver crisis was such an outstanding economic feature of the year, however, that the Government's handling of this matter is placed somewhat fully on record. All the constructive work now being done to improve the internal economy of the country must bring results in time. It is a task upon which all nations are now engaged as a necessary preliminary to an expansion in their foreign trade. Meanwhile, it has to be admitted that the nation's purchasing power, in common with that of many other countries, shows no sign of improvement as yet, and that her foreign trade is all too obviously suffering still from the effects of the greatest of all disturbances of the world's economic equilibrium. The decline in the combined value of imports and exports amounted to twenty per cent.; but the fact should not be overlooked that, after reducing her adverse visible balance of trade in 1933, by 222 million dollars, China has effected a further reduction of 238 million dollars (which meant decreasing her excess of imports by almost exactly one-third) during the year under review.

HISTORY OF SILVER

In the last of these annual trade reports it was stated that one of the few really definite achievements of the World Monetary Conference held at London in 1933 was the Silver Agreement, the express object of which was to mitigate fluctuations in the price of silver. The report in question proceeded to cast doubt on the benefits likely to accrue to China from the provision of the agreement, suggesting that the carrying out of these provisions, especially if it led to an artificial raising of the price of silver to a higher level than that of recent years without a commensurate appreciation in the international price level for Chinese produce, would lead to an exodus of the metal from this country. It was pointed out in this connection that the "Treasure" tables in the Customs Trade Returns had already begun to show a net export instead of the usual net import of silver.

The developments that have taken place in the silver situation during the year under review mainly due to extensive purchases of the metal on behalf of the United States of America, have been (and are likely to remain) of such far-reaching importance to this silver-using country that a condensed summary of them has been put on record in the report.

The report then reproduces the text of the Silver Agreement itself, duly entered into at London by the delegates of the largest holders or users of silver and the principal producers of silver. The United States of America ratified this agreement, and the report points out that in her "Coinage of Silver" proclamation, showing that it was the intention of the United States Government to make use of the agreement (a) to enhance as well as to stabilize the price of silver, (b) to protect its foreign commerce against the adverse effect of depreciated foreign currencies (inferentially) by depreciating its own currency through the use to be made of the silver purchases, and (c) to augment the purchasing power of silver-using countries (inferentially) by appreciating the currencies of such countries.

For Jubilee £50 Gold Piece

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, May 25.

The special gold crown piece which was struck by the Royal Mint in commemoration of the King's Silver Jubilee at the price of £50 is already worth £2000.

An offer of this amount for one of them is made to-day.

The issue of the Jubilee gold crowns was limited to 25, and more than 1000 applications were received.

It was announced that if the applications exceeded the number of crowns offered allotment would be made by ballot. The draw took place last week.

M.P.'S QUESTION

On May 13, Sir William Dawson, M.P., asked the Home Secretary in the House of Commons whether, in view of the provisions of the Betting and Lotteries Act, the Home Office proposed to take any action to stop the draw.

Sir John Gilmour replied that he was advised that the scheme referred to had not the characteristics of a lottery, and that no action was called for.

"THEM THAR HILLS"

THE LEMON DROP KID

Lee Tracy, who has made his reputation on the stage and screen in fast-talking, swift moving roles, is in the title lead of Paramount's new Damon Runyon's story "The Lemon Drop Kid," which opens on Wednesday at the Alhambra.

Tracy plays the role of Runyon's famous "Kid," a race-track insider, who boasts that the horses tell him when they are going to win. Of course, the "Kid" is not always as smart as he thinks he is, and following a bad day at the track he is forced to make a quick getaway and lands in a one-horse town where a country girl hands him a big surprise by falling in love with him.

How the "Kid" faces this emergency supplies the dramatic punch to the picture, gives it a twist that makes the "Kid" do things on a very much different scale.

In addition to Tracy in the picture's title role, the cast features Helen Mack, as the country girl, who loses her heart to the fast-talking "Kid."

HELLDORADO

Authentic in every detail, a complete California ghost town was reproduced at Fox Movietone City as background for the dramatic sequences of "Helladorado." Jesse L. Lasky's Fox Film production, which will come to the King's Theatre on Tuesday.

Designed by Max Parker, famous art director, it was one of the largest, and most colourful sets ever erected for picture purpose.

An unusual feature of the elaborate layout was a system of rain-pipes constructed overhead to provide a downpour of water for some of the dramatic scenes laid in the village. Because of the necessity to stimulate rain, it was impossible to use an actual ghost town, although there are a number of such villages in California, Nevada and Arizona. None of the remaining ghost towns are equipped with water-systems.

Heading the cast are Richard Arlen and Madge Evans, supported by Ralph Bellamy, James

THE LITTLE COLONEL

An absorbing story, and the presence of the one and only Shirley Temple, make "The Little Colonel," which is now showing at the King's Theatre, an extraordinary screen event.

Once again, America's golden-haired sweetheart captures, with her unpretentious art, and her honest acting, the hearts of old and young.

She is co-starred with Lionel Barrymore in this heart-stirring superb story of a bitter Kentucky family feud during the days following the Civil War, when prejudices still rankled, and a woman who dared give her heart to a hated Yankee was ostracized by friends and relations.

The five-year-old screen sensation has the role of a tiny tot whose childish love and laughter routs the bitterness and false pride that make wretched a stern old Kentucky aristocrat who has turned his back on his daughter.

Shirley's charm shines in this story which is as tender as her baby heart. Not only is her work extraordinary as an actress but she quite captivates the most biased with her singing, quite surprise one with her dancing talents when she appears with Bill Robinson and accompanies him in his famous stair-dance.

Barrymore's presentation of the goddaughter colonel is masterly. Commendable, also, is the fine work of the supporting cast composed of Evelyn Venable, John Lodge, Sidney Blackmer, Alden Chase, William Burress, Frank Darien, Hattie McDaniel, and the already mentioned Bill Robinson.

Gleason, Henry B. Walthall, Helen Jerome Eddy, Gertrude Short, Patricia Farr, Stepin Fetchit, Lucky Hurlie, Stanley Fields and Berton Churchill.

CABLES "SWERONIS"

THE BANKRUPTCY COURT

Application for Receiving Order Granted

An application made on behalf of Messrs. Gibb Livingstone & Co., Ltd. by Mr. F. G. Nigel of Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master for a receiving order against the Canton Brothers Rubber Manufacturing Co., Ltd. came before His Honour the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor at the Supreme Court on Saturday. This action, which was granted, was the result of bankruptcy proceedings which had lasted for several years.

That the application was made on the grounds that there were not sufficient assets to pay a dividend of 15 per cent. to creditors after payment of preferential costs and Court fees was the reason stated by Mr. Nigel. He said that it was made under General Section 98 (1) of the Bankruptcy Ordinance, which gave the Court power to rescind the adjudication order made by it under its Bankruptcy Jurisdiction. Mr. Nigel also submitted that the section also gave the Court power to rescind any receiving order.

TO FORM NEW COMPANY

In this case of rescinding an annulment to adjudication orders, he understood that it had been His Lordship's practice not only to consider what percentage should be given, but also to consider the wishes of a large majority of the creditors in regard to dividend, and, in fact, to consider all the circumstances of the case.

In this case, so far as he could see, there was only 3 per cent. payable to the unsecured creditors, and in these circumstances a vast majority of the creditors wished the receiving order to be rescinded so as to enable arrangements to be made whereby the assets of the debtor firm would be assigned to a new company to be formed, and the creditors be allotted shares in the new company.

With a view to carrying out the wishes of that large majority of creditors, a meeting was held on April 10 at the Tai Tung Restaurant and at that meeting it was proposed that a new company should be formed and that creditors who had lent money to the company prior to 1933 should be allotted shares in the Company to the extent of 25 per cent. of their claim. Creditors who had lent money to the company after 1933 should be allotted shares to the value of 75 per cent. the reason for this difference being that in the past the Canton factory and some of the creditors who had lent money before 1933 had, in fact, lent money to that factory, which was dissolved before the Hong Kong factory.

A GAMBLE

Mr. F. H. Loseby, who appeared for some 60 creditors of the debtor company said, that it was the first time that he had heard that an agreement had been reached for the formation of a new company, and that his clients did not know anything about the meeting. He wondered whether the new company, when formed, would give preferential payment in full.

His Lordship said that it was more or less a gamble and asked Mr. Nigel if he or his firm could give an undertaking to pay preferential claimants in full.

Mr. Nigel replied that he could arrange to give all the money due to Mr. Loseby's clients for Mr. Loseby to distribute.

His Lordship then granted the application, and made an ancillary order that the assets of the debtor firm be paid to Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master, to meet the claims of all preferential creditors as shown in the statement of affairs filed in this matter, to leave to Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master for the new company, or for the trustees of the new company, such part of that sum as on the expiry of three months from to-day is still unclaimed.

As regards the assets of the firm, the money is in the hands of the Official Receiver and he made a corresponding order that he pay this money to the trustees of the new company or the new company as well as other assets.

The cost of the proceedings of the day's hearing would be charged against the debtor firm.

KONGMOON NOTES

A Disastrous Fire

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Kong Moon, June 7.
A disastrous fire occurred in Kong Moon on Tuesday night June 4th, destroying the headquarters of the Lei Tsat Bus Company on the bund. Two men lost their lives in the fire, and seven of the buses belonging to the Company were burned. This loss will very seriously handicap the Company, as the buses running between the city and Pak Kaal, the Port on the West River are generally well patronized. Several other houses in the rear of the Bus Company headquarters were also burned.

The Kong Moon district, has been receiving copious rain fall during the past month. The spring rice crops are looking well, as are the mulberry fields. Unfortunately the farmers are not realizing much profit on the sale of the mulberry leaves. The mulberry crop in other years brought in a considerable revenue for the farmers. They now feel keenly the loss of this market.

Many of the schools in the district observed the "Kaau Sz Tsi" on Thursday, June 6th. This festival is intended to emphasize the value of education. It is possible that this festival will be more generally observed in the coming years.

The West River is very high at present. Fortunately the danger of flood is past for the present. The danger will come about the middle of the month.

Chan Ching Ho was Saturday morning sentenced to one month's hard labour by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Central Police Court for the theft of one dozen razors from the China Emporium Co. on Friday. Acting Sub-Inspector Tyler said that cases of shop lifting have been very common at the China Emporium recently, no less than five cases having occurred within a month.

At the Central Magistracy on Saturday morning Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen committed Li Ngau Yau, who appeared on remand charged with the possession on May 22 of 40 forged $50 notes of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank, to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions at the Supreme Court.

EDUCATION CONFERENCE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Hankow, June 2.
To review the record of the past year's work, its progress as well as its defects, the Five-Province "Special Type Education" Conference is now sitting here with delegates from Hupeh, Kiangsi, Fukien, Anhwei and Honan in attendance. Among technical experts specially invited to attend the conference are Mr. J. B. Taylor, foreign advisor to the Ministry of Industry, Mr. T. L. Soong, president of the China Development Finance Corporation, and Madame Chiang Kai-shek.
The conference is presided over by General Chang Hsueh-liang, Director of the Provisional Headquarters of the President of the Military Affairs Commission, on behalf of General Chiang who is now absent in Szechuan.
The system of "special type" education, it may be recalled, was launched in Kiangsi last June by General Chiang for the express purpose of guiding the thought of the common people back to the right path following the completion of the Communist suppression

GUN PRACTICE

Gun practice with live ammunition will be carried out from the under-mentioned forts, etc., on the dates and at the times shown:—

Stonecutters ID.—8.30 a.m. to 1 p.m., 19.8.35, South-westward direction.
Times shown are the approximate limits between which practice will be carried out, the actual hours of firing depending to a large extent on local weather conditions.

campaign, and was subsequently enforced in the other four provinces.

THE CHIEF AIM

Upon the request of the five provinces, the Executive Yuan later in the year, granted a subsidy of $400,000 from the British Boxer Indemnity Fund as expenses for this branch of work in the five provinces.

Speaking on behalf of General Chiang Kai-shek, General Chang Hsueh-liang stated that the chief aim of the conference is to direct and guide those people in the bandit-infested provinces who have been led astray by Communist doctrine. The enforcement of this special type education is the first step towards the rehabilitation of the bandit-areas.—(China United Press (by mail).)

CHINESE SILVER
COINSNew Regulations
Introduced

The export of Chinese silver coins and silver bars from Hong Kong is prohibited unless under licence, is the latest notification which appeared in the "Government Gazette."

This measure is aimed at the prevention of smuggling of silver, and in order to come to closer co-operation with the Chinese Government, the Hong Kong Government deemed it expedient to adopt this measure.

The embargo, which will not take effect until after midnight on June 15, applies to Chinese coin and silver bars produced in Hong Kong or China. Coin and bars which have been legally exported from China are not affected. It will still be possible to export these latter dollars and bars from Hong Kong.

Legitimate "silver export transactions" will not be interfered with under the embargo, which is designed purely for the purpose of "checking the outflow" of smuggled Chinese silver from the Colony.

TEXT OF ORDER

The new order has been made in the form of a regulation by the Governor-in-Council under the Importation and Exportation Ordinance. It reads as follows:

No person shall, after midnight of Saturday, June 15th, 1935, except under an export permit granted in his discretion by the Superintendent of Imports and Exports, export from the Colony to any country or place other than China:—

- (i) any silver coin minted in China; or
- (ii) any silver bullion, other than silver bars the product of refineries outside the Colony of Hong Kong and China.

GIRL GUIDES
GATHERAt Government
House

The entire Executive Committee of the Hong Kong Girl Guides Association met on Wednesday, June 5, at Government House, by the kind invitation of Lady Southern, O.B.E., the Colony Commissioner, to witness the presentation of a Medal of Merit to Miss Dora Burslem, who recently joined the local Education Department. This medal is awarded for "excellent service to the movement," and as Lady Southern said, in making the presentation, "Miss Burslem had actually earned the medal for her work in Trinidad, but she had already shown the true Guide spirit during her short residence here by helping to judge the annual Prince of Wales Banner Competition, and we were all looking forward to her very capable assistance when the Companies and Packs re-opened after the summer holidays."

Others present at the ceremony were Mrs. A. R. H. Phillips, Mrs. J. D. Danby, Mrs. J. H. R. Hance, Mrs. W. B. A. Moore, Mrs. Y. K. Chow, Mrs. K. S. Robertson, Mrs. G. V. A. Griffith, Miss H. D. Sawyer, Mrs. C. E. L. Grist, Mrs. G. A. C. Herklotz, Mrs. W. J. Anderson, and Miss Morse, a visitor from England.

Lady Manning, formerly President of the Girl Guides Association in Ceylon, was unfortunately unable to be present owing to indisposition.

THE EPSTEIN STORM

(Special Air Mail Service)
London, May 25.

Mr. Richard Sicker, R.A., who resigned from membership of the Royal Academy as a protest against its "faction" over the proposal to remove the Epstein statues from Agar House, in the Strand, has received a letter from the president, Sir William Llewellyn, explaining that the question of an appeal for the preservation of the statues has not been put to the president and council of the Academy.

Mr. Sicker, however, is adhering to his decision to resign.

The Academy ought to have summoned an emergency meeting

FIRE AND LIFE
Bishop Hall's Sermon

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Hall chose "Fire And Life" as the subject of his sermon at St. Andrew's Church yesterday morning. He said:—

A great preacher in London once leant over his pulpit and shouted to a slumbering worshiper below him, "Fire." The man woke with a start and said "Where, where is it?" The preacher replied "In hell for sinners."

For a different reason I want to say to you this morning, "Fire." And if you say where is it my reply will be "In the Holy Spirit of God" to kindle the hearts of men, to stir us from our lethargy, to melt the coldness of our hearts, to burn up all that is unclean in us, and to "temper" us as steel is "tempered" to endure hardness for the Lord Jesus Christ.

Our Lord Jesus Christ once said "I come to cast fire upon earth." When John the Baptist spoke of Him he said "There cometh one after me who will baptise you not with water but with the Holy Spirit and with Fire."

When the Apostles asked Jesus to call fire down from heaven on a discourteous village which would give no welcome to the Prophet of God, He replied "you know not what Spirit you are of."

The Fire He had brought from heaven was not fire to destroy but a creative fire of love.

To-day is the anniversary of Pentecost when the Spirit and the Fire which Our Lord brought from heaven took possession of His followers. It seemed to them as though a living flame kindled upon their heads. For that reason it is good for us this morning to stop for a moment to consider what this Baptism of Fire means to us; what it means to the Church of God. That we, like the Vestal Virgins in Rome, have a Sacred Fire to keep alight, the Fire which Jesus Christ Himself kindled among men.

THE UNDYING FIRE

Created things fall into two main headings, the personal and the impersonal. Fire is impersonal. It is, therefore, for all its power, less than a man who can love and think and serve.

That great ball of fire which we call the sun is the impersonal source of personal life. For this reason many have worshipped the sun. Christmas is a survival in our own life of the worship of the sun and of fire by our ancestors. But when I say that we in the Church are custodians of a Fire lit by Jesus Christ I do not mean a literal fire such as the Vestal Virgins guarded. I mean rather that fiery Spirit which possessed Jesus Christ Himself.

We can use impersonal things like fire to help us to understand intensely personal characters like Jesus Christ, but we must always be careful to keep such illustrations in their right place. Jesus was a fiery person in the sense that His life was and is a living Fire to burn up evil and to kindle love. But notice how different He is from the person whom we usually call fiery. The fiery man is one who flames up at any and every provocation. The fiery man is to that extent impersonal because, like fire, he can only burn. What ever comes his way he will treat in the same way.

How different was Jesus Christ, the intensely Personal Being. It is true He is fiery, but His fire is the fire of love, it is always the same love, it has always the quality of fire about it and yet it treats each person and each situation in a different way.

The more personal a man is, the more varied will his actions be. Jesus described the man born of the Spirit, that is a man kindled by the Divine Fire, as like a wind you can hear, but you do not know whence it comes or whether it goes or what it is going to do next. Do not, therefore, think that when we Christians call the Spirit of God personal, when we talk about Jesus Christ as the Divine Fire, we are limiting God. The personal is less limited than the impersonal.

I remember ten years ago in Hong Kong a brilliant Chinese student saying to me that God, he thought, was the undying fire in the heart of the universe. He was right in this if he meant thereby to say that God is more than personal, but wrong if he meant that God is less than personal. We keep that truth when we talk of the Spirit of God, for Spirit, literally means breath, and it suggests a pervasive influence in which all things exist and have their being.

We Christians believe that God is the undying fire in the heart of the universe. But that fire is the fire of love and love is of all things the most intensely personal activity of which we have any experience.

When we say then that God is not only Father and Son but also Holy Spirit we mean that God is more than personality as we know it in men. But we also mean that the all pervading Spirit of God does not act towards men impersonally like fire but with the intensely personal loving of Jesus Christ Himself.

FIRE AND LIFE

Jesus is often called the Lord of Life. He came, He said, that we might have life and have it more abundantly. The same is true of fire. It is not only destructive it is life-giving.

From the joy of gathering wood to make a picnic fire down to the most elaborate arrangements for heating and lighting and cooking that technicians can devise, fire fulfils its life giving function.

Jesus Christ in the same way is a life-giving Fire. The Spirit of God which possessed Him He has made available for us. Remember how at His baptism the Spirit came upon Him, how He was "driven of the Spirit" into the wilderness, and returned "full of the Spirit." He said to us that if we asked God, God would "give us the Holy Spirit." Indeed He made that gift the whole end of prayer and the prayer that He taught us to pray is simply His own life put into words. No wonder then that He saw His own life, His own mission, as like that of Prometheus. He was bringing fire from heaven for men. Like Prometheus too the fire brings life giving, but unlike Prometheus fire it is no use for cooking. The fire that Jesus cast upon earth is the life giving fire of the living Spirit of God.

He said to us at the end "Only if I go away, that is, only through my dying can this Divine Spirit possess you too."

After His resurrection He breathed on them and said "Receive ye the Holy Spirit. As My Father hath sent Me even so send I you." Pentecost in some strange way convinced His followers that this Divine Fire was now their own possession. They are set on fire with the same Spirit of courage which had sent Jesus on His own mission preaching the Kingdom of God. They have something of His Spirit in the power to heal, the power to change men's hearts and the power to forgive.

"Stir up," said St. Paul later to Timothy, "The gift that is in you." Let us on this day of the Holy Spirit, thus day of Divine Fire, stir up the gift that is in us and pray God that we too may be possessed, not by a gentle quietness or by the snug comfort of central heating, but by the radiant and consuming Fire of the love of Jesus Christ.

Moses saw a bush on fire with the Divine Fire. The bush was not consumed for all its burning. It opened Moses' heart to know the presence of God.

Our business is to be like the burning bush. So much on fire with the Love of Christ that men and women about us are brought into the presence of God and know that He is indeed the Divine Fire to burn up all that is evil in us and to kindle in us His own creative love.

"MISTAKE AND UNTRUE"

Sir William Llewellyn said: "The whole report about the Epstein statues in relation to the Academy and myself is a mistake and untrue. Mr. Sicker is under a misconception. When he knows the real truth of the matter I am sure he will revise his opinion."

Mr. Epstein said: "I could have no great champion then Mr. Sicker. There is nothing more to be said about the statues. I think in the face of the support I have had they will remain where they are."

MEASURES OF MORALITY

We are all aware of the vigilance of Mr. Shortt, the president of the British Board of Film Censors who maintains with watchful eye the chastity of our cinema, and every year, with his abhorred shears, he cuts out thousands and thousands of feet of "sex appeal" from our British films. If he cannot quite banish naughtiness, he reduces it, at least, to a reasonable modicum while we all know that his method of dividing the sheep from the goats, the "A" films and the "U" films, preserves the native innocence of the rising generation, and so the youngest and most vigorous of arts is kept within the easy confines of British morality. With the growth of film industry, however, a new problem has arisen, for the United States of America, to whom the British producers aspire to sell their finished product, do not recognise the moral censorship of Mr. Shortt for they have, it appears, their own set of film morals which was laid down some five years ago by Mr. Martin Quigley, otherwise known as the Moses of Hollywood. For some years, indeed, it was more honoured in breach than the observance, but last summer the Roman Catholic Church entered upon such a strong crusade against the American cinema that the Quigley code is now strongly enforced. It seems needless to add that it is just as vigorously applied to imported films.

To give two instances, the British film, "Nell Gwynne" ends upon a dangerous note of leniency, when the dying King says, "Let not poor Nell starve." The Americans insist that to satisfy morality Nell really must be made to suffer, and as a result an epilogue has had to be written to show poor Nell expiating her sins in the gutter. In the more delicate case of another British film, "The Scarlet Pimpernel," the eagle eye of that American film dictator, Mr. William Hays, noted that the dresses of the ladies in the east were cut lower than permitted by the Quigley code. This offence, described as "cleavage," was not indeed considered of sufficient enormity to merit banishment but the producers were warned to repeat it at their peril. Alarmed at the moral uncertainties which deprive them of the American market, British producers have invited Mr. Quigley and Governor Carl Millekin to visit Britain, and as recently reported, they had accepted and had arrived in the country, bringing the code with them. They will, no doubt, give a course of instructions to the producers responsible for the two films mentioned above. Henceforth British films will pass through a double filter as it were—the native censorship of Mr.

CHINA'S BUDGET FINANCING
Retrenchments For Next Fiscal Year

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Nanking, June 3. In order to cope with the financial difficulties confronting the country, the commencement of the 24th fiscal year, beginning July 1st, 1935, will see the enforcement of a far-reaching retrenchment programme in almost all Government departments. According to the programme, sixteen government organs will be abolished, twenty-four amalgamated with other organs, and forty-three will have to cut down their expenses considerably.

The sixteen organs to be abolished include: Commission of Administrative Efficiency under the Executive Yuan; Administrators' Training Institute and Rural Workers' Training School; Commission for the Examination of Land and Sea Maps; Central Reclamation Commission; Music Books Examination Committee; National Opium Suppression Commission; Peiping Office of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs; Tariff Readjustment Research Commission of the Ministry of Finance; The Finance Ministry's Advisors' Office; The Office of the Finance Commissioner of Shensi; and the Preparatory Committee for the Unification of Dialects under the Ministry of Education.

PROVISIONS CUT DOWN
Beginning from the next fiscal year, the Peiping Historical Museum will be incorporated into the Peiping Palace Museum; The National Quarantine Service into the National Health Administration; the Salt Inspection Bureau into the Salt Inspectorate and the Unemployed Overseas Chinese Relief Committee into the Overseas Affairs Commission.

Budgetary provisions for the 24th fiscal year for several of the most important of Government departments will also have to be cut down. These include the Central Political Council; the Civil Affairs Department and Military Affairs Department; of the National Government; and various Customs Superintendents' and Customs Commissions' Offices.

ARRESTS DENIED

Shortt and the American code of Mr. Quigley.

Cleavage, no doubt, will wholly disappear from the breasts of our British film stars; crooks will always be punished in the last reel and even truth to life and to history will not be allowed to lower the standard of morals, but there is a consideration which may nevertheless be neglected. The discerning reader may have noticed that in a work of art much more depends upon the treatment than upon the subject and where the theme is treated seriously and with delicacy there can be little or no offence, though on the other hand things naturally innocent may be degraded by vulgar treatment. There was a case in point in a beautiful Hungarian film which recently was the subject of some controversy.

We believe the film code lays down certain prohibitions as to subject that tend to ignore this more important question of treatment. It is, after all, the letter that kills and the spirit which maketh alive. The artist who treats a subject with sincerity and in good taste can touch upon almost everything without offence which lies in coarse and vulgar handling against which our censorship sometimes fails to protect us.

and the silver crisis, it has been difficult to balance the budget without abolition or amalgamation of superfluous organs and enforcement of a strict retrenchment policy. Moreover, in view of the expected further decrease in revenue as the result of the forthcoming abolition of transit dues and exemption of export duties on a number of native goods, the Ministry of Finance is now busily studying ways and means of making up the huge deficit.

It is understood that China's annual revenue derived from her export duties amounts to $24,000,000. The decision of the Government to abolish export duties on more than 100 kinds of native products will deprive the national treasury of an annual revenue of approximately $3,000,000. A further shifrage of $18,000,000 will be incurred by the abolition of transit duties, thus making a total deficit of $21,000,000. Definite measures for meeting the deficit will not be announced before the enforcement of the new taxation schedules. However, the financial authorities have emphasised that no new methods of getting revenue will be added to the burden of the masses.

NEWS SUMMARY

Many exciting lawn bowls games were witnessed on Saturday, the most important of which was the game between Reccelo and Craig-gower "A" which the Portuguese Club won by two shots. Particulars of the game, together with other results, appear on Page 10.

The latest appointments, and tenders called, which appeared in the Government Gazette will be found on Page 7.

The export of Chinese silver coins and silver bars is prohibited in Hong Kong unless under licence according to the current issue of the Government Gazette. The notification stresses the fact that the measure is solely directed at co-operation between China and Hong Kong.

An application for a receiving order was successfully made by Mr. Nigel before Sir Atholl McGregor on Saturday at the Supreme Court on behalf of Messrs. Gibb Livingstone against the Canton Brothers Rubber Manufactory.

U.S.R.C. is given a good opportunity to-day to avenge their defeat at the hands of the K.C.C. "A" of four weeks ago when the two teams meet this afternoon, in the Mixed Doubles Tennis League.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop Ronald Hall chose "Fire and Life" as the text of his sermon which he preached at St. Andrew's Church yesterday morning.

Sam Parks, a comparatively unknown professional, won the American Open Golf Championship, beating such stalwarts as Olin Dutra, Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

At Tuesday's meeting of the Rotary Club, Rotarian R. T. Barrett will speak on "Truth And Lies In History."

The Hong Kong University Union will hold a Moonlight Launch Picnic on Saturday, June 15, 1935 to White Sand Beach. The launch will leave Blake Pier at 7 p.m., sharp. The charge is $1 per head, refreshment included.

The management wishes to advise intending patrons that there will be no Dinner Dance at Republic Bay Hotel on Wednesday, June 12.

An air mail message from London dated May 23, last, states that Lady Stubbs has returned from Ceylon to The Red House, Wateringbury, Kent. Sir Edward Stubbs will arrive at the end of June.

If Gossip We Must

(BY "PRUDENCE")

The King's Birthday Ball last Monday brought the Hong Kong season to a brilliant conclusion, and will long be remembered as the most splendid event of the year, and the biggest! His Excellency, Sir Thomas Southern, the Officer Administering the Government, and Lady Southern are both possessed of the happy gift of making those who cross their threshold feel that they are individually welcome, and on this occasion they worked the miracle for more than two thousand guests.

Only the most perfect organisation could have made the easy reception of so many possible but the whole thing was so cleverly planned that this vast crowd was never for a moment congested. The reception was held in the ball room, and after shaking hands we all passed straight out into the grounds which were illuminated by myriads of multi-coloured lamps, outlining the paths, glittering among the trees and transfiguring the garden into a fairyland.

WELCOME FOR ALL
Lady Southern looked charming in a graceful gown of snow-white tulle with a deep "berthe" of silver and crystal, and spent the evening among her guests, finding time for a word of welcome for one and all.

Hundreds of small tables on the lawn and up on the roof garden were spread with tempting light refreshments, and beguiling music was played by the band of the 1st Bn. The Lincolnshire Regt. while special numbers were given from time to time by the pipes of the H.K. Singapore Brigade.

It would have been pleasant to spend the whole evening out of doors under the lamp-lit trees, and many did so but several hundred others elected to play bridge and all the rest of us went into the ballroom to dance.

THE FASHION DISPLAY
That was the place to see the fashion display and there was much to admire. Thrilling uniforms of the Navy, Army and Air Force; the robes of the Chinese Elders, the beautiful brocades worn by willow Chinese ladies (and here I must mention lovely little Mrs. Wan in her graceful national dress which caught my eye at once) and the graceful kimonos with the shimmering silver obi's worn by the Japanese ladies.

Among the many enchanting frocks, I can't forget how lovely Mrs. "Mike" Turner looked, in gleaming apricot satin, with a ruffled cape which seemed to float round her like a cloud, and Mrs. Croucher who made me think of a mermaid in her moulded dress of shining sequins. Mrs. Kirk, too, looked marvellous in cloth of gold, shot with mauve, and Mrs. A. B. Stewart wore a dress that enhanced her vivid beauty.

Mrs. Newbiggin was charming in turquoise blue. Mrs. Alfred Lammert had a most original dress of deep green, worn with a spray of black roses and with black gloves (very French and so becoming). Mrs. Sanger was radiant in white with a cape of jade while Mrs. Ronnie Child looked sweet in a dress with flowery shoulder-straps. Mrs. W. J. Hansen was most decorative in peridot green and Col. and Mrs. Williams were among the early arrivals, the latter very smart in cerise crepe. Lady Shenton was sylphlike in white, studded with crystal diamantes, and brought her sister and brother-in-law, Capt. and Mrs. Cross, who are here on short-leave from India. Capt. Cross, by the way, will be remembered by many of us here in his capacity of private Secretary to the former governor, Sir Reginald Stubbs.

IN THE DIM DISTANCE
I only glimpsed Mrs. Tratman in the far distance, looking very elegant as she always does, and Mrs. Hole (very gay and pretty in white), Mrs. Fred Tracy, too, was charming in white with scarlet slippers.

Mrs. Collis Hallows looked particularly nice in primrose-crepe with a cluster of violets on the shoulder. She is off and away on the next Blue Funnel and she and her husband plan to spend their leave in "Erin's Isle."

A total of 335.98 million gallons of water was used on the island during the month of May and 193.69 million gallons on the mainland.

Only one case of enteric fever was reported for the 24 hours ended on June 7.

A Chinese coolie, named Lo Sang was knocked down and killed in an accident that occurred on Saturday shortly after 1 p.m. The lorry, No. 1065 driven by Wong Kong Man was proceeding to Hollywood Road, when on turning the corner in Lyndhurst Terrace, it accidentally crashed into the unfortunate man, who sustained a fractured skull.

The many friends of Lieut. Comdr. C. A. de W. Kitchin, R.N., will be interested to hear of his engagement to Miss Joan Short in England where he is stationed at present. The wedding is to take place shortly.

Mrs. de Ville was very stately in black net with flowers. Mrs. Carrington Sykes wore midnight-blue. Mrs. Dovey had a fascinating frock with crimson polka-dots and Mrs. D. J. Valentine was all moonlight grey.

Mrs. Franks in coral-pink received many congratulations on her husband's honour and Mrs. Digby looked charming (as she always does) while Mrs. Gerrard was most distinguished. Mrs. Briggs wore a dainty dress that threw up her glorious auburn hair, and Mrs. Pearce was tremendously chic, in black.

ALL THE LOVELIES
The dark dresses were very effective too. I loved Madame Montargis in black and Mrs. Strahan in dark flowered chiffon. Mrs. Scott looked marvellous and Lady MacGregor wore a quite unique shade of subdued green. Mrs. Lewis chose black, and were all the lovelies there? Definitely yes!

Brenda Kirk so young and pretty in white with a sash of rainbow tulle. Mrs. Crappell's pretty daughter (serene and serious as usual); Betty Gerrard, fairy-like in white satin, and her sister (with her cameo-profile) in pink. Eppie Strahan in an elusive shade; Yvonne Shenton, very early-Victorian in white with bouffant sleeves; Peggy Murrow, floating in clouds of white organdy; Peggy Humphries in billowy blue, Iris Hay-Edle (sorry, I mean Mrs. Johannessen) in honey-coloured lace, little Miss Evans, dainty in white.

Sylvia Morris glimmered past in peach colour and her sister, Val, wore her lovely Presentation Gown of forget-me-not blue satin (just the colour of her eyes). Alwen Owen Hughes looked very beautiful and Rosalie Alabaster flashed past me many times to the strains of the best band in Hong Kong. Miss Hopkins was blonde and beautiful as ever; Miss Hodgson, slender and willowy; Joan, Mary and Rachel Smalley (whom I can never tell apart unless they are together—which seems a contradiction but it's true). Ann Dodwell and her sister just eluded me every time I thought the dance would swing them nearer, but I noticed Barbara Hance, like a wood-nymph in green, her sister Heather, in a dress powdered with flowers, and Mary Rogers in white.

CHANGING HUES

Pamela Potter was dainty and demure, and Patricia looked very gorgeous. Was that Noreen Cooper I saw looking so pretty? Minnie Whitman drifted past me looking her loveliest, and so many others that the ballroom became a chiaroscuro of changing hues.

Amongst the throng I could not miss seeing Mrs. Alex. Grantham in delicate pastel tints, and Mrs. Burlington who looked very distinguished. Mrs. Booth, who has such exquisite tastes in harmonising colours, Miss Siggins (very smart all in white), Miss Harry in black with a gleam of silver here and there, and Mrs. E. P. H. Lang who was charming in shell-coloured satin. She, by the way, is off to England by the next P. & O., and so dear friends, am I—I—If my luck holds. "But did I say look? Perhaps when we meet the monsoon in the Indian Ocean I shall change my tune and add the prefix to the word, and think regretfully of my small canoe, breasting the harmless ripples of Repulse Bay.

So ends our Hong Kong season to which the King's Birthday Ball came as a wonderful and fitting climax; a real Jubilee Ball for this memorable Jubilee Year.

SITUATION IN NORTH CHINA

Tension Relieved: Full Settlement Expected

Messages during the week-end in regard to the North China situation indicated serious tension. Japanese army leaders were reported to be visiting Peiping with the intention of presenting a final ultimatum to General Ho Ying-ching.

The latest message, however, states that the wind has veered in the direction of a full settlement, while it is gathered that no ultimatum will be presented and that the original demands have been modified to enable compliance to be easier.

General Ho Ying-ching is reported to have ordered the dissolution of all secret organisations and to have stated that China has already complied with all the Japanese desires.

London, June 8.

Despite the counter interest of the Cabinet changes, the Sino-Japanese issue is given prominence in all the papers, with such headlines as "Secret Orders to Japanese Army Chiefs" and "Japanese Armies in China Awaiting Word to Go."

Even circles most friendly to Japan deplore the Japanese military demonstrations as calculated to react unfavourably throughout the world on the Japanese reputation.

Chinese circles connect the Japanese behaviour with the reported breakdown of the Russo-Japanese negotiations for the reduction of the Russian forces in the East. They also draw attention to the port from Berlin of a new agreement between the Soviet and Outer Mongolia, whereby the latter receives munitions and other assistance for equipping the army and permits the Soviet to build railways through Mongolia.

All observers comment with misgiving on Japan's refusal to disclose her exact demands, while she pursues the usual policy of rattling the sabre one day and the next day declaring that all is well and no aggression need be feared.

The "Daily Herald" says that the Japanese do not really want their demands satisfied. They want an excuse to carry out the ultimatum to demilitarise Peiping and Tientsin.

Rengo.

QUICK DEVELOPMENTS

Peiping, June 8.

It is considered probable that quick developments in the Sino-Japanese situation will follow the visit of General Isogai and General Doihara, the former of whom is due to-night from Tientsin.

It is understood that they are seeing Gen. Ho Ying-ching to-morrow, but it seems possible that the developments will not depend on any decision Gen. Ho Ying-ching may make, but upon the decisions taken at Chengtu.

It is stated that General Doihara is bringing a number of "suggestions" for settlement of the Sino-Japanese differences which he desires General Ho Ying-ching to communicate to the Generalissimo.

BRITAIN INQUIRES

Tokyo, June 8.

The British Ambassador, Sir Robert Clive, called on Mr. Shigemitsu, Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs, this morning to seek information concerning the situation in North China.

FINAL ULTIMATUM?

Peiping, June 8.

General Isogai, the Military Attaché at the Japanese Legation, General Sakai and other conferees have arrived from Tientsin, with the reported object of serving the final ultimatum to General Ho Ying-ching.

It is understood that this includes three main demands:—
Firstly, the removal of the whole of General Chang Hsueh-liang's north-eastern army from Hopei, including the troops commanded by General Yu Hsueh-chung, General Kwan Ling-tseng and General Huan Chieh (which would amount to the virtual demilitarisation of the provinces).

Secondly, the withdrawal of the Peiping Military Council from North China.

Thirdly, the abolition of the various political bodies, including the Provincial Kuomintang.

CHINESE MOVES

Meanwhile General Shang Chen, the new garrison commander at Tientsin vice General Yu Hsueh-chung, has left for Tientsin to take up his duties, but General Yu's first army is remaining at its post at Paotingtu, to which city the Hopei Kuomintang headquarters is also being removed over the week-end.

It is felt that the dispute is now beyond local solution despite Nan-king's hopes, and must be referred direct to the Central Government. Japanese sources state that an identical copy of the ultimatum is being served at Nanking to-morrow. By June 12 it is anticipated that the Japanese garrison in North China will number 4,000.

Another Japanese requirement was acceded to by the closing down of the political training department of the Military Council.

SETTLEMENT EXPECTED

Peiping, June 9.

The wind has veered and is blowing in the direction of a full settlement of the North China imbroglio. It is reliably learnt that the Japanese will present no ultimatum and also that they have modified the original demands so as to enable compliance to be easier.

Apart from the closing of the Military Council political training department, General Ho Ying-ching has ordered the dissolution of all secret organisations whose activities are detrimental to friendship between China and foreign Powers.

Meanwhile the third regiment of Central Gendarmes has started withdrawal from Peiping to the south, while the withdrawal of two central divisions commanded by Generals Kwan Ling-tseng and Huang Chieh are expected at any moment.

General Ho Ying-ching is reported to have told a Japanese correspondent that China has already complied with all the Japanese desires.

SMILE OF SATISFACTION

Peiping, June 9.

After being closeted with General Ho Ying-ching for two hours, General Sakai emerged smiling eloquently and expressed satisfaction with the attitude of the former, but he pointed out that compliance with several demands so far had not been fulfilled and depended on Nanking's decision.

General Ho Ying-ching, breaking a ten-day silence, said: "I do not expect any hitch in settlement now." He promised a reply concerning outstanding issues within a few days after reference to Nanking.

WHITSUNTIME IN BRITAIN

Great Exodus To The Country

London, June 8.

Although heavy rain fell in London early to-day following a night of exceptionally high south-westerly winds, the weather improved later and forecasts indicate that sunshine records for the Whitsuntide holiday week-end will be better. There was a great exodus of holiday makers from London to the country and sea-side to-day and on railways accommodation on special holiday trains was fully utilised.

Road traffic was particularly heavy and in anticipation that during the week-end there will be more private motor cars on roads than at any time so far this year, the Minister of Transport issued special broadcast appeals to motorists last night to exercise every care in driving to avoid accidents.

DROP IN PRICE OF SILVER

Senator Requests Explanation

Washington, June 8.

Senator McCarran has called a meeting of the Silver Bloc for Monday with a view to resuming an immediate silver price of 1.29 and combat rumours that the Treasury is contemplating a change of silver policy.

The Senator has written a lengthy letter to the Treasury Secretary, Mr. Henry Morgenthau, asking an explanation for the recent drop in price of silver and the basis for the above rumours.

Some New York brokerage quarters advance the theory that the rise in the silver price towards 1.29 may resume as soon as Mexico gets its new silver coins circulating, pointing out that the United States abruptly stopped raising the silver price when Mexico encountered difficulties, but Mexico was eager for higher prices and sought only temporary relief. With new coins circulating within a month Mexico can watch silver and a climb seems quite obvious. Mexico has learned from an informed quarter that its coins must be protected against price, at least to 1.29.

Senator McCarran later made it known that no definite time has been set for the meeting of the Silver Bloc. However, if Mr. Morgenthau replies to the Senator's letter it is expected that the meeting will be held next week.

In the meantime Senator Adams and others have scoffed at the necessity to resume agitation for heavier silver buying, contending that the silver policy has been carried out satisfactorily.

SAVING THE FRANC

Clear Field For New Premier

Paris, June 8.
The Senate sanctioned the Empowering Bill on Saturday by the overwhelming majority of 233 votes to 15, the Bill thereby coming into force.

Despite its initial successes, the Laval Cabinet on the whole was given a cool reception by the Press, some papers holding that the Chamber's frame of mind last night had been one of "weariness and resignation."

The Chamber will reassemble on June 18 for the summer session and since it will last only two weeks, it is not considered likely that the Chamber will do much mischief, so Laval will be given a clear field until the autumn to work his miracles in saving the franc.

Their Majesties Leave For Sandringham

London, June 8.

The last of the four Royal Jubilee drives took place this afternoon when the King and Queen made a semi-state tour of West London. The enthusiasm of the crowds who assembled in great numbers along the decorated routes fully equalled that displayed on the occasions when Their Majesties visited other suburbs. Shortly after returning to Buckingham Palace, the King and Queen left for Sandringham where they will spend Whitsun week-end, returning to London on Wednesday.

The epidemic of duels is still continuing here, another combat this time with pistols, having taken place on Saturday at the barracks of the Cavalry Regiment here between the two deputies Zsilinsky and Pechy. There was an exchange of shots, both bullets missing their mark whereupon the opponents parted unscathed and unrecalled.

The duel was the outcome of a somewhat unusual political affair. Zsilinsky having in the recent elections been defeated in his district by the government candidate Nicolasken Yeres, who subsequently turned out to be the political adventurer and Jew named Moses Kaufmann.

Zsilinsky had thereupon charged Pechy with having promoted Kaufmann's candidacy.

Rome, June 8.
A counterblast to Mr. Anthony Eden's statement on the Abyssinian problem in the House of Commons, on Friday was delivered by Mussolini on Saturday while speaking to the third mobilised Sabaudia Division which was assembled at Cagliari ready to embark for East Africa. Il Duce who had flown to Cagliari on Saturday afternoon said: "The Black Shirts, which you have just witnessed in a proud demonstration of our might and discipline, is worthy of the heroic and martial people of Sardinia. There are old and new scores to be settled and we will settle them. It does not matter what they say beyond our borders. Only we ourselves are judges of our policy and guarantors of our future—only we ourselves and no-one else."

"We will strictly follow the example of those who want to lay down the law for us and who were never concerned about the opinion of the world when it was a matter of building up and defending their Empire."

"If the government appeals to you Black Shirts and calls Italy's youth to arms it does so because it considers it is the sacred duty dictated by supreme necessity. The entire Italian people know this and are ready to rise as one man when it is a question of defending the power and glory of our Fatherland."

The former chairman of the executive committee of the Transcaucasian republic and erstwhile secretary general of the central executive committee, Yenukidze, had been banished to the East Siberian town of Boldibo for an undetermined period by the decision of the OGPU here on Saturday. Under the Soviet constitution the OGPU may banish persons for a period of from five to ten years.

Yenukidze who, as previously reported, had been expelled from the party on charges of "political and moral corruption" will be immediately deported together with some of his fifteen associates who likewise were expelled from the party. His private archives as well as numerous official documents found in his possession had been confiscated and orders had been given that all pictures of Yenukidze must be removed within 24 hours from public and party buildings.

SPEEDY WORK AND NO EXCITEMENT

Cabinet Reconstruction

London, June 8.

The reconstruction of the Cabinet was effected yesterday with remarkable expedition and a minimum of excitement. During the afternoon Mr. Ramsay MacDonald was addressing the House of Commons on the defence questions as Prime Minister. On leaving the House, he drove to Buckingham Palace and within the next two-and-a-half hours all formalities in connection with the change over had been completed and the new Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, had issued his Cabinet list.

Owing to the inclusion in the new Cabinet of two ministers without portfolios—Mr. Anthony Eden and Lord Eustace Percy—it is a larger cabinet than its predecessor and comprises twenty-two members. A feature of the new Cabinet is that the balance of the parties in it remains practically unchanged. The Liberal Nationals have an additional seat owing to the advancement of Mr. Ernest Brown to be Minister of Labour and the Conservatives also have one additional Cabinet Minister.

The average age of the members of the Cabinet is fifty-four years as compared with fifty-seven in the late Cabinet. The reduction is due mainly to the promotion of three members who are in their thirties. The youngest member is Mr. Malcolm MacDonald who is thirty-three. Mr. Eden is thirty-eight and Mr. Oliver Stanley, thirty-nine.

In the new Cabinet, for the first time for seventy years, father and son, Ramsay and Malcolm MacDonald, will be members.

It is understood that the late Premier, whose office of Lord President of the Council is no sinecure, will have special responsibility for the coordination of activities of the defence forces and will be chairman of the sub-committee of the committee of imperial defence.

"I am naturally gratified at the opportunity of being associated once more in so intimate a manner with the destinies of India. I realise that the future constitution is already in shape and that the task which falls to my lot is not to draft or redraft the measure, but rather to aid in piloting the existing bill through its final stages to the Statute Book and hereafter to join with Lord Willingdon in bringing a new form of Government into operation.

"Credit for the Bill will remain for all time Sir Samuel Hoare's. Perhaps I should add it has always been my view that a reasonable continuity of policy is essential in the relations between Britain and India. In this case continuity will be easy and natural, for my views and those of Sir Samuel Hoare on the question of the Indian constitution, have been formed in almost complete sympathy with one another during the long process of investigation at the Round Table Conferences and by the Joint Select Committee in which he and I have taken part.

"I do not underestimate the difficulties of the task before me, but from the sympathy of many personal friends, whom I am fortunate enough to possess in India, I shall hope to derive encouragement and strength."

CRAIGENGOWER "A" BEATEN

Silva's Big Win Over Bradbury's Four

JUNIOR LEADERS RETAIN THEIR UNBEATEN RECORD

A large crowd of bowls enthusiasts gathered at Club de Recreio on Saturday to watch the first division game between the home team and Craigengower "A" (the holders) and if they went there in the hope of seeing some fine bowls, they were not disappointed for not only was play of an exceptionally high standard, but the game was also so closely contested that the spectators were given thrill after thrill.

Craigengower were up on two rinks but C. G. Silva upset all their calculations when he beat Bradbury's four by the comfortable margin of 14 shots, this being more than enough to make up for the deficit suffered by the other two rinks.

The Indian Recreation Club, playing at home, beat K.C.C. by 9 shots while Kowloon Docks and Kowloon Bowling Green also won their matches against Civil Service and Police respectively.

In the Junior Division Yacht Club scored their first points of the season when they beat the Football Club in a close game while Civil Service Juniors got the better of Taikoo by the narrow margin of three shots. A feature of this game was the fine bowling by Westlake's rink who scored the only "seven" of the day though "sixes" were obtained by Muskett (H.E.C.) and Chalmers (Taikoo).

MIXED DOUBLES TENNIS

Two Matches To-day

The sports programme will be very much curtailed to-day by the Whit Monday holiday but two matches have been arranged in the Mixed Doubles Tennis League.

To-day the U.S.R.C. has the opportunity of avenging their defeat of about a month ago at the hands of the K.C.C. Due to a very much depleted team they were unable to do anything much but now, with the inclusion of L. Goldman and Miss Hancock, a different complexion has been put into their team.

There is every likelihood of Capt. Manners turning out to-day but Mrs. Kayll will be unable to play, having just a successful operation for appendicitis.

C.R.C. should have little difficulty in beating the K.C.C. "B" when they travel over to the Kowloon Ground.

Interport Aquatics

With Shanghai accepting the invitation to send a swimming team down here for the Interport, the V.R.C. (under whose auspices the event is being held) is losing no time in preparation to put up the best opposition against the Northern swimmers.

Mr. David Lyon, the Hon. Secretary and Treasurer of the Shanghai Amateur Swimming Association have sent word to the V.R.C. accepting the invitation and intimating that they will in all probability be arriving in the Colony at the September.

No reply has yet been received from the Tientsin Association and it is thought that the Tientsin swimmers may find it difficult to obtain the necessary leave to make the trip to Hong Kong.

As a prelude to the Interport, the V.R.C. propose to hold the Colony Swimming Championships open to all "bona-fide" amateur swimmers in the Colony early in August. This will give the Interport selectors a pointer towards form.

With August and September occupied with the Swimming Championships and the Interport, the V.R.C. monthly night galas will, this year, be limited to two. The first of these will take place next Saturday, and the other has been provisionally arranged for July 13.

A varied and interesting programme of events has been drawn up, included among which are four events open to members of the Canton Aquatic Sports Club, the Chinese Y.M.C.A., the South China Athletic Association, the Chinese Athletic Association, all of whom have signified the intention of competing.

AMERICAN GOLF TITLE

Sam Parks Beats Champions

Oakmont, June 8.
Sam Parks, a comparatively unknown local professional, who is not yet 28 years of age, has won the American Open Golf Championship with an aggregate score of 299.

Jimmy Thompson was second with an aggregate of 301 and Walter Hagen third with 302. Other aggregate scores were Ray Mangrum 303, Denmore Shute 303, Alvin Krueger 306, Gene Sarazen (1932 champion), 306, Richard 306, Horton Smith 306, Paul Runyan 307, Mett 307, Olin Dutra (holder) 308, Turner 308, Montie Dutra 309, Macdonald Smith 309, W. Craig Wood 312, Sid Brews 312, Al Espinosa 314, Cooper 314, Burke 315, Johnny Goodman 318, Johnny Farrell 322, George von Elm 324.

A high wind storm was responsible for high scores in the second round when the leader was Jimmy Thompson with 146, Alvin Krueger 148 and Gene Sarazen 149 being ahead of Sam Parks 150.

Parks played wonderful golf in the last round, his card being 73 and 78, 149; Thompson 77 and 78, 155. Walter Hagen who was down the list in the second round with 153 made a gallant fight in the last round, but was tired on the homeward half, his scores being 73 and 78, 149.

Tommy Armour, former holder of the title, withdrew when he was 17 above par for the first 16 holes. Par was 72.

MIGHTY HITTING BY WELLARD

Somerset Score Freely

Somerset found little difficulty in playing the Surrey bowling, and when stumps were drawn had scored 313 runs for the loss of seven wickets. A magnificent innings by Wellard, who scored 84, including four 6's, in 105 minutes, was the feature of the day's play.

Things had been going none too well for Surrey, who were without P. G. H. Fender and Watts, and E. R. T. Holmes called on six bowlers before Whitfield, in his second over, obtained two valuable wickets. First he broke up a stubborn opening partnership by the brothers Lee, getting J. Lee, leg-before when the stand had yielded 67 in eighty minutes.

When the third-wicket stand had put on 107 in two hours five minutes, F. Lee, who required two runs to reach three figures, was lbw at 174. For three and a half hours he defied the attack without offering a chance, his best hits being eight 4's. At tea the total was 191 for three wickets.

In his first over after tea Gover dismissed Hawkins and Burrough without a run being added.

Wellard followed in and treated the spectators to a glorious display of driving. At one time he was rather wild in his method, but he seems now to have developed the real art of batting.

ANOTHER CENTURY BY WYATT

A not-out century by R. E. S. Wyatt—his second in the two matches played this season—was the feature of Warwickshire's match with Gloucestershire. Thanks to their captain's inspiring display, Warwickshire scored 228 in their first innings; and, with the visitors losing three valuable wickets for 78 before stumps were drawn, are 180 runs ahead of Gloucestershire, who have seven wickets to fall.

After the interval Wyatt reached his 50 in just over an hour and a half, but he showed poor judgment between the wickets, and twice Dollyer was nearly run out in responding to his captain's appeal for short runs.

Wyatt continued to be Warwickshire's mainstay. Dollyer was bowled by an off-swing at 151, the partnership for the fifth wicket having added 41 in as many minutes. Collin was stumped at 156, Cranmer run out by Barnett at 189, and Buckingham and Mayer were lbw at 191 and 210 respectively. This left Wyatt with 1 runs to get for his second century in successive innings when Holmes, the last man, came in. The England captain, who had shown a very sturdy defence, demonstrated his skill in nursing the bowling, and while Holmes manfully kept up an end, Wyatt ran to three-figures just before tea—taken with the total 228 for nine wickets.

The innings ended without addition and in an unusual way. Wyatt played a ball from Hammond hard back to the bowler, who, with Holmes out of his ground in backing-up, deflected it on to the stumps. So Holmes was "out". Wyatt took out his bat for 103 after batting three hours and a half, during which time he gave no chance. His figures included seven 4's.

In spite of his three and a half hours at the wicket, Wyatt lent his aid to the attack when Gloucestershire opened their reply, and, bowling an excellent length, he did another splendid service to his county by getting Barnett leg-before, two runs after Dacre had been caught in the slips at 31. Hammond and Sin-field passed the 50, but at 75 the partnership was broken by Santall, who made a brilliant catch at deep mid-off to dismiss Hammond. Santall flung himself at a fast-travelling ball, and, although his effort caused him to roll over on the ground, he clung to the ball safely.

TWO CLEVER BOWLERS

Batting was not a strong point with the Cambridge University Freshmen yesterday, and there was little evidence of any new talent, at least in H. T. Bartlett's side, who, on a good wicket, were all out for 91. Only three batsmen reached double figures, Khanna being the top-scorer with 19 not out.

Two medium-paced bowlers, Heath and Hunt, who came on as first changes, took nine wickets between them. Hunt obtaining five for 28 and Heath four for 18. They each took two wickets in four overs, and Bartlett's side lost their first seven batsmen for 28.

The failure of Bartlett's side in their batting was made all the more inexplicable by the ease and rapidity with which Parker's team scored their runs. In two hours, marked by bright batting, Parker's lost only two wickets while making 181.

Tindall reached his 50 in seventy-five minutes, and Yardley made the same number in an hour. The partnership put on 115 in seventy-three minutes. Yardley then falling to a catch at extra-cover, Tindall has so far hit twelve 4's, and Parker's, with nine wickets in hand, are 70 runs on.

U. S. BASEBALL

Two Close Duels

New York, June 7.
The two New York Clubs in the major Baseball Leagues were engaged in close duels against Boston teams to-day.

The Giants managed to nose out the Braves in the National League after ten innings but the Yankees, in the American League, were beaten by two runs to one.

A double header between St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians was postponed on account of rain, which also caused the postponement of one match in the National League.

Results, as cabled by Reuter, follow:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Boston 2 9 0
New York 3 7 0
(J. Moore and Melvin Ott scored home runs for the Giants. There were ten innings.)

Brooklyn 11 15 2
Philadelphia 9 14 1
(Koenigke scored a home run for the Dodgers and J. Moore and Allen for the Phillies.)

Cincinnati 13 15 0
Pittsburgh 4 11 1
(Byrd, Kampouris and Goodman homered for the Reds.)

A double header between Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals was postponed on account of rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York 1 7 0
Boston 2 7 0
Detroit 8 15 1
Chicago 9 16 2

(Melvin Fox homered for the Tigers while Gerald Walker hit two home runs and Bonura one for the White Sox.)

Philadelphia 6 13 2
Washington 11 16 1
(Johnson scored a home run for the Athletics.)

Owing to rain the match between St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Reds was postponed.

SATURDAY GAMES

New York, June 8.
Boston Braves and New York Giants could not meet in the National League on Saturday owing to rain, which interfered considerably with play in both leagues.

Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals shared the honours in their double header. The Pirates trounced Cincinnati Reds and the Dodgers upset the Phillies by a small margin.

In the American League, the Yankees beat Boston Red Sox, but the latter avenged the defeat in the return game.

The following were the results as cabled by Reuter:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Brooklyn 3 8 0
Philadelphia 2 5 0
(Danny Taylor homered for Brooklyn. Only five innings were played owing to rain. The second game was called off.)

Cincinnati 8 14 2
Pittsburgh 14 13 1
(The second game was called off in the third inning owing to rain.)

Chicago 4 10 3
St. Louis 5 10 2
Chicago 11 12 0
St. Louis 6 10 1
(Medwick and Collins homered for Cardinals.)

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Detroit 2 5 0
Chicago 3 9 1
(Greenberg and Owen homered for Tigers. Radcliff and Sewell for White Sox.)

Philadelphia 4 11 3
Washington 3 9 1
(The second game was called off owing to rain.)

New York 12 14 2
Boston 6 11 2
(Lou Gehrig homered for Yankees.)

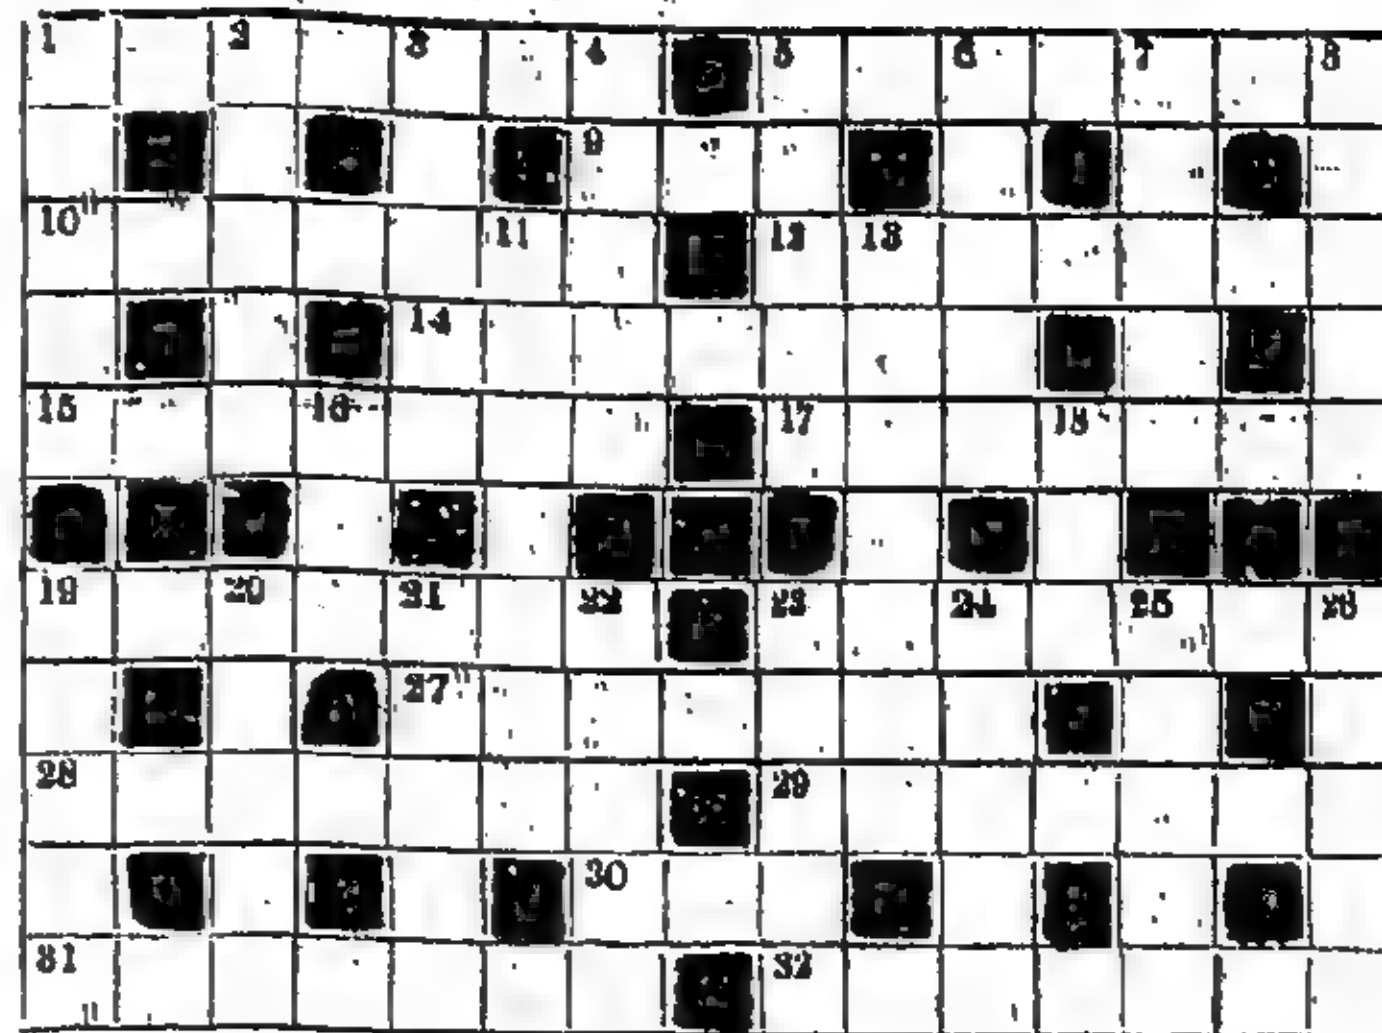

New York 2 6 0
Boston 4 7 0
St. Louis 2 7 0
Cleveland 3 8 1

OMAHA PERFORMS THE "HAT TRICK"

Belmont Park, June 8.
Omaha, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness Stakes, has now won the $50,000 Belmont Stakes. Omaha was the seven-to-ten favourite.

WEEK END PICNICS

Beautiful sunshine favoured with a light breeze favoured the week-end picnics organised by several institutions on Saturday when good attendance was also evidenced.

The Y.M.C.A. in their launch the S.S. Kwang Tung carried 21 passengers to Big Wave Bay under the care of Mr. E. F. Selk. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roskuge, Mrs. Richards, Mr. A. B. Henry, Miss B. Blumenthal, Mr. A. B. Moss, Mr. A. W. Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. D. Marshall, Mr. Bernard, Mrs. Mc-Lellan, Mr. G. Fowler, Mrs. Bagshot, Mr. J. R. Luke, Mrs. Bird, Mr. Swan, Mr. D. Paul, Mr. H. G. Owen, Mr. Ferguson, and Mr. Chidlow.

The St. Andrew's launch carried well over 30 passengers to Junk Bay, among whom were Mr. A. L. Cole, Mr. E. MacNider, Mr. W. Knox, Mr. D. Knox, Miss M. White, Miss G. White, Mr. A. S. Bliss, Mr. V. White, Mrs. Hopwar, Mrs. White, Mrs. Gibson, Mr. G. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kew, Mr. A. G. P. Frew, Mr. F. A. Broadbridge, Mrs. Wong, the Misses J. and F. Wong, Miss E. Banks, Mr. W. C. Low, the Misses P. and I. Gittins, Mr. E. F. Fincher, Mr. W. Fincher, Mr. F. V. Wong, Mr. R. H. Wong, Miss J. S. Landolt and Mr. C. E. Wong.

Wah Yan

The second of a series of picnics organised by the Past Students' Association of the Wah Yan College was held on Saturday afternoon when a large gathering was turned out for their trip to Big Wave Bay but the roughness of the sea made this impossible and the destination was subsequently changed.

Among those present were the Very Rev. Fr. R. W. Gallagher, the Rev. Fr. G. L. Kennedy, the Rev. R. Kennedy, and Mrs. Millard. Refreshments were catered for by the Hotel Cecil, while fruits were served at the expense of the President, Mr. Ko Fook-sun.

BURLESQUE INDOOR OLYMPIAD

A "United Social Evening" will be held at the European Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday next in the West Lounge, commencing at 9 p.m., when a burlesque Indoor Olympiad, open for members of both the men's and women's section and their friends is being staged. The whole scheme is being conducted by the Women's Social Committee and judging from the ready response for entries, this innovation is likely to prove an instantaneous success.

The programme, open for amateurs only, is as follows:—

- Event 1.—100 Metres Swimming.
- Event 2.—Hurling The Javelin.
- Event 3.—Putting The Weight.
- Event 4.—Potato Race.
- Event 5.—Musical Contest.
- Event 6.—Inside Run.
- Event 7.—Eating Contest (Super Interval).
- Event 8.—Long Jump.
- Event 9.—100 Metres Hurdles.
- Event 10.—2,000 Metres Steeple-chase.
- Event 11.—Throwing The Discus.
- Event 12.—Relay Race.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Report

Hong Kong, June 8.
Messrs. G. A. Harriman and Co's weekly share report and market review issued at noon on Saturday states:—

Although the volume of trading during the past week was on the light side, many stocks showed a much firmer tendency and in some cases substantial advances are to be recorded. Investment counters improved a great deal. The feature of the week was the sharp rise in Dairy Farms and Hong Kong Trams, the former having changed hands up to $14.10 and the latter to $13.70. Star Ferries recovered to $77, but closed slightly easier. Hong Kong Electric was marked up to $59 with further buyers at $58.75. Telephones (old) improved with transactions done at $20/204. Hong Kong Lands came to business at the enhanced rates of $31 1/2. Wharves, however, were slightly easier with shares offering at $81 (c.r.). Minor issues were generally firmer. Hotels were bid up to $430. China Lights were dealt in at $2.75 closing in demand at this rate. Providents (old) improved to a buying rate of 80 cents and Watsons to $2.90. Cements attracted no attention and were still on offer at $5.40. On account of the easiness of exchange, Sterling counters were a shade firmer. Hong Kong Banks having been transacted at $1610/40 and Unions at $330/35 closing better. The tone of the market at the close is firm but quiet.

BERLIN BOURSE

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]
Berlin, June 7.

Despite the warnings issued by the various competent authorities against further advances in share prices, for which economic facts provide no justification and despite the closure of the bourse for three days owing to the Whitsun holidays, many shares rose still higher on Friday.

The profit which was so strong in evidence on Thursday disappeared. Fixed interest securities remained steady as heretofore, the turnover being small, many of the prices changes were slight, but downwards.

Call Money from 2 1/2 to 3. Prices of the sharemarket reached altogether phenomenal heights during the week, and the turnover at the time being very considerable. The warnings from authoritative sources proved insufficient to deter the public from buying the standard shares eagerly in the belief that this was best to safeguard against losses, which would likely accrue from the confusion that would arise throughout Europe if, owing to the prolonged political crisis, the financial situation in France got beyond control and the franc was forced off the gold standard.

A striking fact about the present situation in Berlin is that fixed interest securities had remained fairly firm throughout, suggesting that the movement is not due to the flight from bond into the sharemarket but rather to a hurried investment in cash reserves or hoarded bank notes.

With the passing of the crisis in France it is expected that Berlin will resume its normal condition—
